Forecast For West Midlands
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 0400 on Friday 24 Dec 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Cloudy with outbreaks of rain at times.

Today:
Any morning mist or fog slowly lifting into low cloud, with a few brighter spells briefly possible. Winds picking up ahead of a band of rain which arrives across the West Midlands by late afternoon. Maximum temperature 10 deg C (50 deg F).

Tonight:
Outbreaks of rain pushing north across the region overnight, but tending to fragment somewhat by the early hours. Becoming quite misty and murky again, with hill fog likely. Minimum temperature 3 deg C (37 deg F).

Saturday:
A rather cloudy start to Christmas Day with some patchy light rain and drizzle here and there. Remaining cloudy into the afternoon with some heavier rain arriving later. Feeling chilly. Maximum temperature 6 deg C (43 deg F).

Outlook for Sunday to Tuesday:
Rain and perhaps a little hill snow on Boxing Day, this clearing to the north. Drier and perhaps brighter on Monday. Cloudy skies and patchy rain on Tuesday.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.